Aside from the fact that you're a girl and he's a boy I see nothing to recommend this relationship. It's incredible to me that you two could even be considering marriage.

Dear Ann Landers: You always seem to have the right answer. Can you supply one for us?

We have two adopted children. They are both under two years of age. How often have we heard people say to us, "Adopted children are lovely, but it's not like having your own."

They are entitled to their opinions, but MUST they say such things in front of the children? The little ones are too young to understand now but what happens when they are older?

Perhaps we are too emotionally involved to see a reply which is obvious to an outsider. Can you help us?—WITHOUT WORDS

Dear Without: You don't need an answer, you need new friends. Anyone who would make such a cutting remark to adoptive parents is hardly worth your time.

Confidential to IS IT WORTH IT? Of course it is. Your emotional investment in this situation is tremendous. Where did you get the idea that marriage was going to be all sugar and spice and everything nice?

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—and How Far to Go," enclosing your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (C) 1963, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate.
